The Situation in Tennessee—The President's Views—A Denial from General Rosecrans—Military Gazette—Storekeepers and Gaugers Appointed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 29.

CONSERVATIVE COMMISSION.

The Hon. Jno. C. Burch and Col. L. C. Burch were recently appointed a delegation by Conservatives of Tennessee to visit the President and lay before him the situation of affairs in that state. Mr. Burch was unable to leave home and therefore delegated his powers to Col. Looney, of Kentucky. Col. Burch and Looney arrived here yesterday. They had a brief interview with the President, which was interrupted by the arrival of the hour for Cabinet meeting, but last night they had by appointment a conference of two hours, during which Tennessee matters were fully discussed. The President referred the delegation to the recent orders as to the limit of Executive power in the matter, but assured them that every means authorized by the constitution and laws would be used to secure freedom of the ballot in Tennessee and other Southern States without interference by Federal or State troops. The President took the ground that the Constitution forbids in any of the States a standing army of paid soldiers; that militia duty is incumbent upon every citizen, who can only be exempted from it by payment of a fine or by providing a substitute; that the militia is an emergency force, subject to be called from plow or loom at any moment, and from which no citizen can escape; but that a standing army of paid troops in any State is repugnant to the Constitution and to the spirit of our institutions. Every constitutional power of the Executive will be used to prevent the organization of standing armies of paid troops in any State unless called for and controlled by Federal authority.

The President during his prolonged interview with Colonels Burch and Looney produced and read from the books the parts of the Constitution and the several laws on the subject in support of his position that no State can maintain a standing army of paid soldiers. The law of 1865 he declared was conclusive on this subject. It disbanded and forbade the reorganization of the militia or volunteer forces of the Southern States. The President in his conversation with the delegation expressed himself in favor of the election of Seymour and Blair.

A DENIAL.

Gen. Rosecrans, in noticing an article which has just appeared in one of the newspapers with the heading "Rosecrans' Mission to White Sulphur Springs," has addressed the editor a note complaining of the unkindness of its tone and temper and the untruthfulness of its assertions of fact. He concludes as follows: "If you desire to deal fairly, permit me through your columns to say to your readers, and to all who love our country, that my mission was one of my own conception and inspired by a most earnest desire for the welfare of this nation, for which I am as willing to lie down my life as any one who lives beneath our flag. No party had anything to do with it—no individual. I alone am responsible, and any information you have received to the contrary is erroneous."

THE INDIAN DIFFICULTIES.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Indian Bureau has advices that at the present Indian difficulties originated with less than two hundred and fifty Cheyennes, Arrahoes and Sioux. They are called the Dog Soldiers, are young men and started from Nebraska to punish their hereditary enemies, the Pawnees. Passing through the intermediate country they committed the murders and other outrages already reported, not only against treaty obligations but the wishes of the confederated nations to which they belong. The officers of the Indian Bureau deprecate the commencement of indiscriminate hostilities against these tribes, but say they should be summoned to a council and the delivery of the offenders demanded by the agents of the bureau, so that only the guilty shall be made to suffer. In the present temper of the military any other course will lead to a bloody, costly and protracted Indian war.

I rejoice, sir, that you have recollected the agreement which was made between us that there should be no speeches. How could this full heart express its feeling to the people of Chelsea. Language is cold with which to express my regard for you. I can assure you, one and all, that in the years that have passed, I have never forgotten you, and can assure you also that in the years which are to come I shall not fail to remember your affection. And, now, Mr. Mayor, the kindest thing you can do for us is to take us by the hand, receiving in its grasp of friendship what the tongue cannot express.

SOUTH AMERICAN WAR.

LISBON, August 28.—One of the steamers of the regular mail line between Rio Janerio and this port, arrived last evening with advices from Rio Janerio to the 8th inst. The tactics of the allied forces in attempting to reduce the Paraguayan garrison of Humiata by starvation had been entirely successful. The Paraguayans held out to the last moment, and on the 24th of July, when their stores were exhausted, evacuated the position. The allied forces marched in the next day. Two hundred and fifty cannon and a large quantity of ammunition, small arms, &c., which the Paraguayans were compelled to abandon, were captured. The retreating Paraguayans were pursued and four thousand of them cut off from the main body and surrounded in El-Gran-Chaco. They there formed a line of battle, and in answer to the demand to surrender, emphatically refused. Three of the Brazillian iron-clads had forced their way through the obstructions, passed the batteries on the river Parana and joined the fleet in the bombardment of the position of President Lopez at the mouth of the Tebigura. Marshal Caxias, the allied commander, was also advancing his troops on Lopez from the land side. As the guns of the allied fleet commanded all the routes of retreat, it was expected the Paraguayans would soon be forced to surrender their position. It was reported that the Paraguayans had evacuated the important defencible town of Timbo. In view of all these advantages gained by the allies, the opinion was general that the war was near its termination.

There were new developments in regard to the difficulties between Mr. Webb and the Brazillian government.

A formidable revolt had broken out in Paraguay, but it was summarily put down and many of the ringleaders captured. Two of them, Berges and Carreral, were tried and shot. The first named was formerly Paraguayan Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

The new Ministry of Brazil were removing the Presidents of provinces and appointing others in their places. This action was incurring the opposition of the Liberal party everywhere throughout the country.

LONDON, August 30.—Accounts of the recent events on the Rio Parana have been received from Paraguay. The Paraguayans claim that the allies received severe checks in two battles on the 16th and 18th of July. The fortress was subsequently evacuated without the knowledge of the enemy. All the heavy guns were spiked, and the arms, munitions and stores were removed.

The governments of Chili and Bolivia have offered their good offices to Lopez as mediators.

LONDON, August 30.—The possibility of war on the Continent is more and more discussed by the leading European journals. The opinion generally expressed is that Prussia, though ready for war, really desires the continuance of peace, but that to Austria and Russia peace is indispensable, and that the French Emperor is undoubtedly prepared for a conflict, but his policy is uncertain.

The Liberal of Toulon says Marshal Neil, who is on a visit to that city, told the council that the army was animated by the best spirits, its armament was complete, the arsenals were full of material, the financial resources of the empire were inexhaustible and to be compared with other powers. France alone was equally ready for peace or war. Some people think that the necessity of diverting the discontent of certain classes in France may cause the Emperor to adopt a warlike policy. They say the election by so large a majority of the Liberal candidate, M. Grevey, in the Department of Jura, the manifestations of general disaffection on the part of the students of the medical schools and universities in Paris, the great success of the Lanterne, and the deep and wide-spread indignation at its suppression, are signs of the public temper sufficient in themselves to alarm the Emperor. Add to these circumstances the expense of keeping an abnormal armament on foot and the encouragement to war offered by the success of the last loan, there is reason, these people say, to expect a war in autumn or spring. Corroboration of these views, is eagerly sought in recent leading editorials in the Constitutionel urging the claims of the Empress Eugene to the Regency. It is argued that such claims as these would not be put forth at this time, were it not anticipated that the Emperor might have to lead the army and be exposed to the perils of the field.

On the other hand, to affect this foreboding, there are official pledges of peace daily made, the advice officially given to capitalists to act as if assured of peace, and the argument so frequently urged by the French Government that they say the completeness of the armament is a guarantee of peace. The recent and sudden changes of feeling on the bourse, and the variations in rentes, are explained as results of the alternate ascendency of these opposing views at the financial centre of France.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Presentation to a Worthy Railroad Conductor.

Among the manly gentlemanly and efficient officials of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, few have more ardent friends and admirers than Mr. Alexander Boulton, conductor on the morning through mail train. He has been running on the road in his present capacity for more than seven years, and his uniform courtesy, kindness and efficiency has won for him a host of friends among passengers and employes. On Saturday night a surprise was arranged for him by his friends, who assembled in large number at the elegant parlors of the Rush House, on Liberty street, opposite the Union Depot Hotel, to present him a substantial evidence of their regard and esteem. The company organized by calling Charles H. Armstrong, Esq., to the chair, when Mr. Joseph J. Chain, of Broadford, Fayette county, proceeded in a neat and impressive speech to present Mr. Boulton with a magnificent gold watch and chain as a testimonial of the esteem of his many friends and passengers.

Mr. Bolton replied in a neat manner, expressing his heartfelt thanks for the munificent gift and asserting that it was his highest pleasure to enjoy the confidence and esteem of his friends, and he trusted that he should merit a continuance of their good wishes and respect in the future. After other gentlemen had made happy speeches, the entire party sat down to a sumptuous supper prepared in the best style of those epicurean princes, Messrs. Rush & Boulton.

The watch presented on this occasion was a magnificent one costing in the neighborhood of four hundred dollars. It was one of Howard's best American chronometers, with rich solid gold cases. It was accompanied by a massive gold chain, and the entire outfit was purchased at the popular hsadquarters for watches and jewelry of J. R. Reed & Co., No. 68 Fifth street. We trust Mr. Bolton may live long to enjoy the handsome present of which we, among others, feel he was so eminently deserving.

Fire at Semple's Store.

We learn that the whole amount of insurance on Mr. Semple's stock was $50,000, instead of $45,000 as we stated on Saturday. This sum is distributed among the underwriters as follows: Ætna, $15,000; Putnam, Albany, Delaware, Mutual, Monongahela, Western, Allegheny and National, (of Allegheny,) each $5,000; in all $50,000 on the stock. The only risk on the building is $5,000 in the Ætna.

Mr. Semple had on Saturday completed the separation of the wet from the dry goods, and with the representatives of the underwriters mutually agreed on the mode of determining the damages, which will be concluded to-day. The store will be re-opened and sales resumed this day or to-morrow. Mr. Semple had been purchasing a large stock in the East, whence he had just returned, and reached his store only a few minutes before he heard the alarm of fire. The fire was already well started in the upper story, where fortunately there were no goods stored. The damage to his stock is therefore wholly from water, and it is surprising where water was of necessity so freely used that a large portion of his immense stock wholly escaped injury. Every piece of goods that is at all injured will be separated from the uninjured. Providentially his extensive invoice of late purchases had not arrived, but will all be in hand this week, and the hosts who are accustomed to deal at Semple's will find the establishment, in the extent, variety and quality of its stock, as well as in the very moderate prices, probably even more attractive than before.

This evening the guests of the Saengerfest will be received in due form at the Rink, to which they will march in procession, forming a glittering pageant as they pass. An address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Blackmore, orations will be made by Gov. Geary and Rev. R. Shilling, and a fine instrumental and vocal concert will conclude and intersperse the inauguration of the greatest musical event which has ever taken place in Pennsylvania. Germans may be used to the superior magnificence and numbers of such festivals as that of the singers of Dresden or those of the sharp-shooters at Bremen and Vienna, but we can safely say that no American who has never left his native shores, has seen anything of this sort, which would equal this one; at least the gentlemen who have the management of the affair in charge say that it ought, shall and must surpass the similar fetes held in New York, Baltimore and Chicago, and from what we have seen of their preparations we think we must concede that they are right. On Saturday the decorations from New York arrived in good order and will with the rustic and floral ornaments furnished by Capt. Elliott, transform the Rink into a sort of temporary paradise. As we have stated before, the Suspension bridge is to be decorated and also the Turner's Hall, and no more or less show of welcome will be made by many of the houses between the latter place and the Rink, the two cities and their main connecting link will present an appearance of gaiety not often witnessed in the sober and sombre twin cities.

We have had our share of operas in this city, and of prime donne, but we have never before had any opportunity of hearing first class music sung by so mighty a chorus, and now that the opportunity has come we are sure but few will fail to embrace it. Many Americans who have an expressed or silent distrust for beer will feel more like taking their wives and daughters to these concerts when we tell them, as we do, that whatever may done outside, inside the Rink, none of that beverage will be dispensed but decidedly dispensed with.

—The New Orleans correspondent of the Cincinnati Times says that the first steamboat to hoist the secession flag at New Orleans in 1861, was the General Quitman; and the first steamboat to raise the flag of political proscription is the same General Quitman, the Captain and owners of which have publicly announced that they will employ no one who is unable or fails to produce certificates and proof that he is a member of some Seymour and Blair Club.

—Two boys were indulging in a brutal prize fight in Baltimore on Wednesday, surrounded by a throng of juveniles, when a gentleman passing by in his carriage, jumped out and dispersed the crowd with his whip, and in like manner separated the combatants, whereupon the father of one of the latter appeared upon the scene and used such abusive language that the owner of the whip, threatened to use it on him. This frightened him, and he departed and sued the peace-make for assault, and to keep the peace. That's the way they do such things in Baltimore.

—Time was, when, the elegant writer thought study, research, polish and, above all, ideas necessary to the construction of a literary effort, but in literature as in all other matters, the work of reform has taken place, and now one of the most widely read authors of the day seems to have taken the following plan. He goes to some slang dictionary and hunts out a long list of epithets; from this he culls the choicest, writes a sentence, adds his selection of epithets, and the thing is done, and he sends his article out on the world as a specimen of what the successors of Addison and Junius can do. Of course the particular writer to whom we refer is Mr. M. M. Pomeroy, and here is a weak specimen of his style. It is only a weak one, because we have too much respect for the old fashioned literature to print any of Mr. Pomeroy's really characteristic leaders.

"A Drunkard.
"A Butcher of men.
"A seeker after spoils.
"A great national murderer.
"A betrayer.
"A fool."

EXTENSIVE RUINS IN ARIZONA, it is reported, have been discovered recently by a party of surveyors engaged in exploring the country for railroad purposes. The ruins extend for some miles along the Little Colorado river. Some of the walls of the building are yet in their places, and stand six or eight feet high. The streets may be traced for miles. The old irrigating canals and ditches are yet in a fair state of preservation, and may be traced for miles also. The ground is strewn with broken crockery-ware. The party found some nearly whole vessels of curious form. The ware seems to be of a different quality, and finer than that found at most of the ruins in Arizona. Many of the walls of the building were built of hewn stone, and put up in a workmanlike manner. To all appearances here stood a city of many thousand inhabitants. On the east bank are the ruins of a large structure or castle, covering several acres of land—some of the walls are yet standing to tho height of twenty or thirty feet.

THE private execution, which recently took place for the first time in England, has elicited very different expressions of feeling as to the benefit resulting from the change. The London Times, thinking that private executions were intended to be private, limited the remarks of its reporter to a few brief, bald paragraphs. The other papers took a different view of the matter. The Star sent Mr. Edmund Yates, the novelist, the Telegraph sent Mr. George Augustus Sala, and the News sent Mr. Joseph Parkinson to describe the scene, all with instructions to make a sensational story out of the occurrence. As a consequence, the journals are arguing that executions which afford food for such articles in the papers, are not half private enough. The law in England now provides that a black flag shall be displayed, and a bell tolled when the drop falls, so that all may know that the criminal is dying, and so that the impression of terror may be made upon every mind.

THE manager of the famous Thalia Theater, in Hamburg, has published a card, in which occurs the following passage: "The Thalia Theater will not risk its well-earned reputation as one of the foremost German dramatic institutions by pandering to the vicious taste which, from Paris, threatens to invade the theaters of all countries. Obscene plays, deriving all their importance from exposing female forms to the gaze of prurient curiosity, will not be performed at this theater. Authors who are infamous enough to write such plays, publishers who are mean enough to issue them, and actresses who are shameless enough to make the leading roles in such plays specialties, need not apply to us, we do not want to have anything to do with them."

THE CROPS IN IRELAND.—The latest reports in reference to the crops in Ireland are more hopeful and satisfactory. According to the Irish papers the rain has been general, and its effects have been most beneficial on potatoes, which, unless spoiled by the blight, will be an excellent crop. Turnips, too, of the late sort especially, have been improved by the rain, and will not prove a total loss, as was expected, for some time. Even flax in some quarters is turning out better than was anticipated, though it cannot by any means be regarded as even an average crop. Wheat is still reported as in splendid condition; oats poor, but rather better in some parts than was looked for; and barley is a fair crop, so far as present appearances can be judged.

A CORPS OF EXPERIENCED SWIMMERS, it is stated, is hereafter to be attached to each regiment of the French army. The idea is fifty years old. The original author of this scheme was Viscount de Courtivran, and he proposed that the swimming corps of each regiment should wear a kilt, sandals and a helmet, of which the crest should be made in the form of a cock's comb, and in order to support the gun clear of the water, butt-end in front, the barrel during swimming operations is to be carefully corked. M. de Courtivran also suggested that at each side of the helmet there should be two small receptacles in which cartridges could be kept dry.

KREOSOTE is again recommended as a fuel for steam vessels. The advantages it possesses are, that it is not inflammable at a temperature below 240 degrees F., and is not liable to spontaneous combustion like coal. Being heavier than water, it can be run off into the sea in case of fire, or can be emptied into the hold and covered with bilge water. The present cost of this liquid is about $3,50 per ton in England.

EDUCATIONAL.

THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Every Parent and Guardian who has a son or ward to educate should know that we have in our city a Chartered Institution, endowed by the State and the generous friends of learning to the amount of $200 000. Preparatory, Commercial, Scientific and Collegiate in character, with a Faculty ten in number, and a course of study equal to that of our best Colleges. The rooms are large and high, and the apparatus and cabinet of a superior kind. The Observatory belonging to it has one of the finest telescopes in the country, is endowed, is in charge of an astronomer of great ability, and is having four new instruments added to it at an expense of $5 000. All the income from endowment and from tuition is expended in supporting the institution. The aim of the Board of Trustees, who are among our most enterprising and benevolent citizens, is to furnish the best advantages to all our youth equal to those enjoyed in any of our cities. The instruction in all the courses of study is thorough, no temporary expedients being resorted to to secure popularity merely. Only Professors of ability and experience are employed.

Catalogues or information may be had by calling at the University Building, corner of ROSS AND DIAMOND STREETS, between 9½ and 11½ A. M. The next term will commence September 1st.

RIVER NEWS.

—White river has been on the rampage for the past week, with a sixteen-foot rise in the river, making it within four feet of the top of its banks.

—The Maggie Hays, drawing 3½ feet, with a barge drawing 3 feet, left Cincinnati on Thursday afternoon for New Orleans, with about 400 tuns freight for the latter point. Pilots, Wm. Attenborough and Bryson Purcell.

—Wm. Hambleton, aged about eighteen years, son of the well known boat builder of Cincinnati, S. C. Hambleton, was drowned in the Ohio river Thursday morning, near his father's shipyard. He was in a skiff which was being towed by the Dayton ferryboat, when the former capsized.

—The America, Captain Adam Poe, left Cincinnati for Memphis on Thursday evening, drawing 3 feet, and having a barge in tow containing 1,300 barrels salt for Memphis. About 50 tuns of the America's freight were for points on the Ohio river, and nearly all the remainder for Memphis. Pilots, James A. Clark and Aaron Jordon.

—A Memphis paper says: It is confidently expected that within a few years we will have a majority of low-pressure steamers on our rivers; but before this can happen the waters must be improved to make navigation more sure than at present. Heretofore Congress has legislated entirely in favor of the east to the detriment of the west, but by personal examination we hope to have this matter thoroughly remedied.

—We are always pleased to record the promotion of newsboys. Dan. Gearin, second clerk of the War Eagle, has been appointed first clerk of the Floral, plying between St. Paul and La Crosse. Four years ago he was carrier of the Dubuque Times, and afterward news dealer. The Herald says: "We have sold him many a Herald over the counter, when his stock in trade amounted to only twenty-five cents. By perseverance and industry he has risen from small beginnings to a position commanding a lucrative salary."

—The Dubuque Herald, of Tuesday, announces a forthcoming billiard match, as follows: A billiard match between two amateur players has been made. Both of the pilots, viz: Leo Scott, of the ferryboat Gregoire, and Andy Merry, of the railroad packet Dunleith. The game is for three hundred points carom; Scott to give Merry seventy-five on the start. The contest is to come off Saturday evening, next week, at Buckley's saloon, Dunleith. The stakes are $50, and, to bind the parties, $20 forfeit has been put up.

—The Cincinnati Commercial, of Friday, says: The Spray and Lawrence are indulging in lively opposition between Cincinnati and Maysville. We understand they are bringing wheat here from Maysville and way points at two cents per sack, and paying a bonus for passengers. This may pay, but we can't see it. All that passengers and shippers want is a reasonable tariff, and we all know that the rates for travel and freight is exceedingly low to all points, below the lowest railway figures. As matters now stand, it is more economical for one to travel on rival packets than "keep house" or board on shore.

—The Louisville Journal, of Thursday, contains the following items: Capt. John Caffery, well known in steamboat circles, is in the city, and reports the death of his brother, Capt. Wm. H. Caffery, a well known steamboatman of this place. The circumstances of the sad affair, as we learn them, are as follows: The deceased was engaged in business above Fort Stevenson, in a wild country inhabited by Indians, and, while he and seven of his party were out in the forests together, they were surprised by a body of the red devils, and were killed. He met the terrible fate about a month ago, but it has only been ascertained to be a fact very lately.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. 160 miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office, in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;
HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

GOLD closed in New York on Saturday at 144⅞.

JOSEPH MCDIVITT, the Democratic nominee for the Pennsylvania Senate, in Adams county, was a member of the Baltimore Convention of '61, and is said to have voted for the secession of Maryland.

WE do not know that the Commercial is making any friends in its persistent attacks on Hon. THOS. WILLIAMS. There are few gentlemen in this section of country who have more warm, personal friends than he whose greatest fault has ever been that he is too honestly constituted to be a successful politician. Mr. WILLIAMS' past record should be a sufficient screen to protect him, while in retiracy, from the unmerited abuse of those professing the same political principles he so ably and faithfully represents.

THE KU-KLUX DEMOCRACY of Chicago are even more impatient than their Pittsburgh friends for the inauguration of the new rebellion, and accordingly attempted, on Thursday night, to set it in motion by a riotous disturbance of an Irish Republican meeting, murdering one man and seriously wounding some others. The Pittsburgh Democracy have not gone so far yet, satisfying themselves, for the present, with stoning our processions, leading their own crowds and music through our meetings, and other aggressions of an equally indecisive stamp. But the same proscriptive spirit is exhibited here as at Chicago, and the mode of its display is only a question of opportunity and turbulent audacity.

THE SECOND ADVENTISTS are now holding a meeting in Jaynesville, Wis., and have concluded that the end of all things earthly will take place on the first of next October. The other day the preacher was very much annoyed by a Republican and Democrat on the outskirts of the meeting, discussing as to who would be the next President. The preacher approached them and said, "My dear friends, you are exciting yourselves unnecessarily and wasting precious time in speculating as to the future President of the United States, for before any earthly election takes place our blessed Lord will be President everywhere."

"I'll bet you twenty-five dollars," said the Democrat, "he can't carry Kentucky."

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION of Clarion county ratifies the nomination of Mr. JOHNSON for Congress from the XXth district, but nevertheless accedes to the request of the other three counties for a new conference and appointed a fresh set of Conferees accordingly. The annexed extract from one of the resolutions adopted explains the action of the Convention:

As there is or may be a contingency in which Mr. Johnson, for the sake of promoting peace and harmony, and allaying excitement which threatens danger to the party, might think it his duty voluntarily to decline the nomination he now rightfully holds—this Convention will appoint three conferees to proceed to Franklin on the day named and take part in the proposed District Convention in the event of the declination of Mr. Johnson, but not otherwise.

Clarion thus asserts the technical right of Mr. JOHNSON to hold to the nomination already made, but puts the degree of responsibility for the probable loss of the district, which he will assume by remaining in the field against the preponderating sentiment of the great body of the party, in a very clear and forcible light. This significant action of Clarion county will have its due weight, and we trust that it may lead to a pleasant solution of the existing difficulty.

SHALL THE "LOST CAUSE" TRIUMPH!

The South Carolina Democracy inform the President that "the doings of the Radicals and negroes will not be submitted to much longer, and that unless they are restrained there will soon be an outbreak." Those Democrats were grey-backed rebels from '61 to '65, and again, from '66 to the present date, they are as much rebels still. For the space of a twelve month, under the salutary effects of SHERMAN'S march to the sea, and of the crushing of their armies by GRANT, they were humbled, submissive, and anxious to be restored to the status of good citizenship. But soon after February, 1866, under the fresh encouragements extended to them by the "policy" of that bad man, ANDREW JOHNSON, seconded by the reviving Copperheadism of the Northern Democracy, the rebel spirit revived, and since that they have gone on from bad to worse, until, throughout the section ruled by the old Confederacy, the laws of the Union are defied, the authority of the legal State Governments, established under the National protection, is spurned, the lives of Union men are systematically threatened and taken by open violence or secret assassination, and the rebels, whom we thought to be conquered in '65, await only the signal from their leaders to break out into another open and merciless war against the Union and all who uphold it. As, in '61, they charged the provocation for their "outbreak" upon the supporters of LINCOLN, so now, with as little truth, they say that the "doings of the Radicals and negroes" are to be the justification for the second rebellion.

No calm and intelligent observer of current indications can shut his eyes to the menacing fact that we are on the eve of another intestine war. Three months hence will bring its inauguration. Do not dismiss this as the croak of an alarmist. Look at the facts as they are and tell us, if you can, how the imminent danger is to be averted, except by a base and cowardly surrender, on the part of the loyal people, of all they fought for and endeavored to secure at such cost, or by such a clear, ringing and decisive declaration of the popular will as shall be a warning to these misguided citizens, of penalties to come ten fold more severe than a too merciful nation has yet imposed, and which shall sweep the Southern land clear of treason and of the last traitor, even if it shall smoke with the fires of destruction from the Potomac to the Rio Grande. We must give up all to these rebels, or we must tighten our grasp upon them with such a resolute determination that they shall give up their plot as hopeless, and accept finally the destiny which demands an entire and unconditional submission to the authority of the National Law. Are we cowards so base as to be bullied now by the rebels whom we once thoroughly whipped? Are we so mean-spirited and craven as to confess that our hero-dead perished in an unholy war; that the rebel cause itself was sanctioned by patriotism and religion; that the murdered LINCOLN paid a just penalty for the crimes which he committed in our name; that the Union was wrongfully preserved, or that the ten States rightfully claimed to retire from the alliance; that the "lost cause" was the right cause, and that the integrity of the Republic was and is to be a delusion, a mere hollow deception, which deserves a summary end? We must grant that what we conquered in war, we had no right whatever to attempt to secure permanently in peace; we must concede that the nature of this security was properly to be stipulated, not by the law-making power of the conqueror, but by its mere Executive, or by the rebels themselves; we must agree that the terms of this security need the concurrence of the conquered rebels to give them validity; we must be content, in the words which an indignant Democrat once rang in the nation's ear to "place our hands on our mouths, and our mouths in the dust," crouching before this alliance of Southern rebels and Northern traitors, or otherwise the loyal people of the whole Union are once more decisively and finally to declare, in Old Hickory's words, that "the Union must and shall be preserved;" that the rightful powers of the people's representatives under the Constitution are absolute in all the premises; that this Constitution shall be maintained as the people have willed it; that the laws shall be obeyed to the last letter; that the accursed spirit of rebellion shall be wiped out to the last breath, peacefully if possible, but forcibly if need be; that the rights of American citizenship shall secure a free press, free speech, and free suffrage in every precinct of the Republic, and that the people will have peace even if they exterminate the disturbers.

This is no time for trifling; neither side issues nor false issues can long serve to amuse or delude the citizen who sincerely loves his country and his whole country, and, who feels in his heart the courage and determination of manhood. With a new rebellion ready to leap upon us at the first tap of BLAIR'S drum and the first "toot" of FORREST'S horn, how many good citizens, who only three short years since, offered their blood and their material resources as freely as the water, to hold up that dear old flag, are willing now to stand counting what it cost us then to put these scoundrels down, shrinking like craven dogs from the yells of the same rebels as they again fall into line, and meanly calculating whether it may not be better to abandon our own lawful rights, and suffer the old flag to be trampled in the dust by the rebels at last victorious?

Who talks about "Radical mismanagement" except those Copperheads who, three short years since, were scorned as public enemies even more vile than their armed friends under LEE? Who are those that rant and declaim, perverting the facts and lying to crowds, not so ignorant as they hope for, about "Republican misgovernment," except the very men who so recently were known to be at heart the partizans of the rebel effort to destroy the Government altogether? Who are the enemies of reconstruction, except the demagogues who gave neither a dollar nor a man to their country in its extremity, and who for four years prayed, not for reconstruction on any terms, but for the triumph of secession and the success of an independent Confederacy? Where is the Democratic journal or public speaker, who now labors to awaken the lowest prejudices against the victorious friends of the Union, who can present a clear and honorable record as the friend of his country, at all hazards and every cost, during all the years of the rebellion? These howling maligners of their countrymen, of the great masses of that people whose Loyalty, Courage, Fidelity, and Union for the sake of the Union were alone the Union's salvation, are found, every traitor of them, to be the same old Copperheads still, or else, who are quite as much to be despised, men who fainted by the way-side, or were drummed out of the public confidence, or retired with dishonorable records, personally spotted, and seeking congenial company, by desertion to the common enemy. Cowardice, corruption, imbecility and detected treachery go to make up the few recruits whom the Democracy have gleaned from the Union ranks, and for the rest, it is the same old party which the loyal people have for years despised, and thrust to the wall.

The citizen who can now stand and hesitate as to his duty, in the face of the rebel designs newly proclaimed, remembering what treason has once cost the Republic, duly appreciating the terrible consequences to flow from a rebel-Democratic triumph, and yet meanly deliberating upon the possible truth of Copperhead falsehoods addressed to his pocket—falsehoods already time and again exposed as the basest of lies—such citizens are not worthy of their citizenship, and richly deserve to participate in the public miseries and private distress which their indecision or desertion now will bring upon the Union. We know that there are but few such; let us hope that there are really none.

The citizen who remembers how, once before, the rebels covered their designs under hollow and false accusations against the loyal North, will not be imposed upon by the same rebel tactics now. He will recall the fable in which the wolf, looking down the stream, reviled the lamb for polluting its current, and so found an excuse, not even plausible, for the destruction of his victim. And he will remember that the abused and reviled "Radicals and negroes" of the South are the instruments, under GOD'S providence, by which a wise and long-forbearing people have at last planned the only possible preservation of the fair Southern territories in loyal submission to the Republic. He will not forget that when, after conquering the rebels in arms, his Representatives were instructed, waiving indemnity for the past, to take an absolute security for the future, they first offered to the South the merciful terms embodied in the XIVth Amendment to the Constitution; that, under the infamous instigations of the President, for which that faithless officer has richly deserved the severest penalties, the re-animated rebels rejected the terms, although warned that still harder conditions would follow that rejection; that then, and not, until then, we found it necessary to bestow the franchise upon the freedmen, place the disorganized South under military rule, and make the acceptance of that suffrage and of the same Amendment, the further conditions of restoration; that by this plan success has been achieved and seven of the ten States brought back. It is the "Radicals and negroes" who have secured this result, and for this they are daily outraged and now threatened even with extermination. This is the head and front of their offending against the rebels who now look to another outbreak for relief from a hated mastery. These "Radicals and negroes" are your agents and instruments, loyal citizens of the North, for the establishment of Southern loyalty and peace. Will you abandon them to the tender mercies of the rebel wolves? Will you cast those States back into anarchy and into the hands of the traitors? Will you disown the authority and impeach the wise judgment of your own Representatives? Not in this year of Our Lord!

THE SÆNGERFEST.

To-day our German fellow citizens will commence in this City a brief season of festivity called in their own language the Sænger fest; interpreted, meaning a singing festival. The educated and refined members of society have been impatiently looking forward for the occasion in which, out of thoughtful courtesy, they have been invited to participate. Hundreds of cultured vocalists and instrumental interpreters from abroad will assist our leading German amateurs in rendering in powerful manner, the glowing productions of the most gifted masters, and in the performances thousands will derive undefinable pleasure and enjoyment. As devotees to the science of harmony, the Germans, more than any other distinctive element of society, excel. Their passion for music is proverbial, and the care taken to preserve its beauty, grandeur and sublimity bespeaks nobility of nature and true appreciation for the art divine. Divorced from their parent country they have lost none of its characteristics, but clinging to customs around which cluster early recollections, they meet together amidst strangers to their native tongue, and pour forth the homage of their souls at the shrine of music. In their rapturous enthusiasm they infuse into the hearts of those with whom they mingle a share of their own devotion for polite literature, and how far the force of example has succeeded in this direction is best told in the rapid progress music has made in America. It is no matter of wonder that a people constituted with so keen a relish for the fine arts should have produced a Handel, a Mozart, Beethoven, a Weber, a Spohr, and other musical masters, whose inspired works live to attest their heaven born genius.

There will be a grand lesson taught in the Sængerfest. Our people will witness the recreation and solid pleasure the Germans derive from an affair prompted by a creditable desire to promote a spirit of culture and refinement. The lack of such occasions amongst our more rapid people is a great error in the formation of society, and one which cannot be remedied too early. The worship of the dollar, business, the slavery of the counting room, the toil in the workshop fill up the lives of Americans, leaving hardly a moment for higher and nobler thoughts and pursuits. That which is called by them enjoyment is more often a degradation than an elevation of the soul. No united effort is ever made to direct the tastes of the masses into correct channels, nor is any evidence ever given that the people are united in an admiration for poetry, music or any of the other fine arts—a devotion to which forms such a conspicuous feature in enlightened nations. The Germans with their enlarged ideas of rational enjoyment, set many an example worthy adoption, but none more so than the national and local festivities of music, such as will commence to-day in Pittsburgh.

QUESTIONS FOR MR. BURT.

Are you for SEYMOUR and BLAIR, or GRANT and COLFAX? Which ticket do you intend to support?

Do you concur in the Southern Democratic proscription of those laborers, irrespective of color, who will not agree to vote as their employers desire?

Do you advocate the eight hour system of labor with no reduction of wages?

If elected to Congress, and SEYMOUR and BLAIR should also be elected, will you support BLAIR'S proposition for the destruction of the Southern State governments by the President and army without consulting Congress or the Judiciary?

Where does the right of Southern reconstruction belong? To Congress, to the Executive, or the people of the late rebel States? Specify which!

If it belongs to the people of those States, would you, if elected a Representative, approve of their old constitutions in force prior to '61, or those adopted after secession, or those which they would adopt now, excluding the colored vote? Which of these would now be valid?

The people will do well to press these questions until the candidate for their suffrages shall reply to them plainly and unequivocally. Our columns are also open for his concise and distinct replies.

The New Rebel Manifesto.

Of Gen. Rosecrans, who hates Grant and Secretary Stanton as cordially as Hampton does, and of his new intrigue with a dozen or two of the rebel leaders, at the Virginia Springs, to concoct an electioneering document for use against the Union cause in this canvass, a Washington writer for the N. Y. Tribune says:

It is asserted here on good authority that Gen. Rosecrans went on this mission at the instance of President Johnson and the Democratic Executive Committee, the purpose being to decide on some scheme whereby the Southern States may, if possible, be carried for the New York nominees. The Democratic managers of the campaign hold that Blair's revolutionary letter and Wade Hampton's rebel speeches are not exactly the documents with which to carry the Northern States, and they see that something must be done to counteract the already disastrous effect of these productions. One of the most prominent of their leaders said, a few days ago, that they cannot hope to carry a single State with these declarations before the people, and that unless something is done to neutralize in a measure their effects they may as well at once give up the contest: for, between Grant and peace, and Seymour and bloodshed, there is but one choice for the country. Gen. Rosecrans has been deputed to do something to help save the sinking Democracy in November. It is now pretty certain that the leaders will send out an address, temperate in tone, breathing sentiments of the deepest loyalty, and full of all the glittering generalities about love for the negro and the best interests of people of all sections of the Union. The address will promise anything and everything. "We must win at any cost," is the sentiment of the Democratic leaders; or, they say, if we loose we are lost forever.

THE National Union, a Cincinnati journal, hitherto independent in politics, has raised the standard of GRANT and COLFAX. It thus defines its position:

"We have endeavored, since we resurrected the National Union, to observe a strict impartiality in regard to political matters, but confess that we are unable longer to do so. We look upon the present campaign as only the war between the North and the South renewed. Rebel Generals assure us that the lost cause is triumphant in the ascendancy of the Democracy. We opposed the South during the war, and we cannot affiliate with rebels now who declare they are only laboring for the triumph of the South over the North and undo all that a four years' terrible war accomplished. We can never affiliate with such men as Brick Pomeroy and Wade Hampton, representative types of Northern traitors and Southern rebels. We do not fight with Frank Blair in his proposed revolutionary project. Henceforth we battle with Grant and Colfax, but shall always speak our mind freely concerning all political parties. We are neither hide-bound nor party-bound, but shall ever be found advocating those men and measures which we believe the best tend to promote the interests of the entire country."

TALKING OF HENDRICKS, EDGERTON and other Democratic "bloated bondholders" in Indiana, the Cincinnati Gazette says:

"This reminds us of an incident in the life of Mr. Pendleton, who assumes to lead the party of greenbackers and anti-bank men. This party professes to be in favor of taxing bonds, and especially in favor of taxing National Banks. Indeed, they profess to be in favor of wiping out the National Banks. Well, the Republican Legislature of Ohio passed a law taxing National Banks. This tax was levied according to law, and the Commercial National Bank of this city was the first to refuse to pay, and it went so far as to solicit other National Banks to unite with it in opposing the tax. Mr. Pendleton was one of the Directors of the Commercial National Bank; was a stockholder, and an owner of United States bonds. He was in favor of a law taxing banks, but was one of the first to oppose its execution. But the law passed by a Republican Legislature was enforced by Republican officials in spite of Mr. Pendleton's opposition."

THE oldest son of Hon. Stephen A. Douglas—Robert—who now resides in Raleigh, North Carolina, made his first speech a few days since. He is for Grant and Colfax, as his father would be, if alive.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

The case of the United States vs. the stills and other property of Charles Locher et al. is still on trial.

In the Bankruptcy branch a final discharge was granted and certificate awarded to Alfred Diehl, of Union county.

In the matter of Frederick Bishop, a bankrupt, on petition filed, leave was granted to the Assignee to sell certain stock and other property of said bankrupt.

On motion of Kerr & Patterson, attorneys for Irwin, McConnell & Co., and on petition filed, the court ordered the examination of H. C. Poulit, a bankrupt, to be had before Register Purivance on the 1st of September next.

PRESENTMENT OF GRAND JURY.

That in pursuance of the direction of the Honorable Court, in its charge, to inquire into the alleged infraction of the laws of the United States regulating the steam marine, for the protection of passengers and for other purposes, the Grand Jury called before them the Local Inspectors of the Port of Pittsburgh, the officers of the several steamboats alleged to have been guilty of a violation of said laws and of the regulations issued and established in obedience and by authority of the same. The officers of the said steamboats were informed that as the investigation might result in a presentment involving charges of a criminal nature against them, that under the circumstances their testimony would not be enforced. It is due to these parties to say that they all voluntarily gave testimony, under oath. The grave responsibility resting upon persons, who voluntarily and for gain become carriers of the persons and properties of the people, it is unnecessary to discuss. The risk to life and property and to the mails of the United States has been so fully stated by your Honor in the charge to the Jury that it is waste of time to further refer to the matter.

The jury find that the following persons appear to be the owners and officers of the said steamboats: Of the Elector—owners: John Cock, Herbson & Co., Henry Bulger, of Brownsville, James Reese and others, of Pittsburgh; Pilots, Joseph F. Hendrickson and Wm. Braitheck; Engineers, Carl Cross and Wm. Ammon; Captain, Robt Phillips. Of the Franklin owners, Adam Jacobs, Isaac Woodward, of Brownsville, and others; Pilot, Craven Hoge; Engineer, Jno. M. Baker; Captain, Zack. W. Carmack.

The Grand Jury further present, that the acts of Congress and the regulations made in pursuance thereof, referred to by the Court, have been grossly violated by the parties controlling the steamboats "Franklin" and "Elector," running as passenger packets on the waters of the Monongahela river, and that the same violations have frequently occurred after notice, warning and remonstrance from the Local Inspectors. It is evidently due to the vindication of the laws, to the safety of life and property, that such proceedings should be directed by the honorable Court as may be necessary to prevent, in the future, a repetition of such offenses.

If it is not deemed impertinent, the Grand Jury would recommend such legislation (if the same does not exist) as will enable the court, upon the report of the Supervising Inspector of the District that racing is being done by any steamboat, to issue the necessary writs or warrants directing the Marshal to take possession of such steamboats, and retain the same until full security is given by responsible parties that the practice will be discontinued. We believe this summary process will prevent all infractions of the laws.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. THE BODY RENEWED.

According to Physiologists, the human body is renewed once in seven years. Every day, every hour, every moment, the flesh, the cartilage, bone and muscle of the frame are wasting away, and being imperceptibly replaced by new material. Health depends upon the nature of that material, and whether it shall be pure or diseased, full of vitality and elasticity, or feeble and flaccid, depends mainly upon the action of the stomach. In warm weather the waste of the system is very rapid, and if it is not as rapidly repaired by the great sustaining organ, the consequence is debility, emaciation and decay. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that the stomach be kept in a vigorous condition at this trying season, and the safest, surest and best tonic that can be employed for that purpose is HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This incomparable vegetable stomachic gives unwonted energy to the digestive powers, promotes the conversion of the food into healthful blood, (which is, so to speak, the raw material of all the solid portions of the body,) and thereby puts the system in the best possible state of defence against epidemic or other diseases. The strong require it to keep up their strength; the weak, to re-invigorate them. It consists of the purest of all diffusive stimulants, charged with the juices and extracts of the most genial roots and herbs, and is a permanent restorative—not a mere temporary excitant. It acts simultaneously upon the stomach, the bowels and the liver, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, costiveness and general debility.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be, and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out of the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. K. says that he has known the most distressing and harassing coughs, whose vibrations would threaten to shake the whole constitution to pieces, removed in the course of a few days. In long standing cases of consumption, or of other sometimes fatal but always troublesome and annoying maladies, known as catarrh, chronic bronchitis, trachitis or pharyngitis, it is a wonderful alleviating medicine in the former and a sure cure in the latter disease.

DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE IS ENRICHED BY SOME OF THE MOST VALUABLE PLANTS AND HERBS KNOWN TO BE USEFUL AND CURATIVE IN ALL DETERIORATED STATES OF THE HUMAN BLOOD, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable and so mostly surely fatal.

140 Wood Street.

This Company, National in its character, offers by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life ever presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

☞ LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed To THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 29, 1868.

The gold market has come to a stand to-day, varying only ⅛ per cent., 144⅞ and 145. The scarcity of cash gold enables the bull parties to advance their rates, whilst they are enable l to carry large amounts of gold at a low rate of interest. The great bull of the market succeeded to purchase large amounts at low rates, and can well afford to run a risk.

Governments are strongly held and firmer for the old issues of 1862 and 1865 and 1865 Consols, more on account of the large short interest outstanding uncovered than from any investment demand; nevertheless, the tendency is for higher prices.

The stock market is very strong, but the cliques alone are the purchasers; the outside parties are not doing anything, most of them lost heavily during the recent decline, and quite a number have gone short to cover their losses, they have only added to their losses. The market is in a very precarious condition, and it is just as dangerous to sell short as to go long. Express stocks are firm and higher.

Business dull and money easy.

The New York Stock quotations to-day as received by Mr. Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold 145¼; 1881's, 114¼; 5-20's, 1862, 114⅜; do 1864, 109⅞; do 1865, 111⅜; do new, 108⅝; do 1867, 108¼; 10-40's, 108¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh 86¼; Fort Wayne, 107⅝; Western Union Telegraph 34¼; Adams Express, 48; Erie, 48⅜; New York Central, 124¾; Reading, 91½; Michigan Southern, 84⅛; Chicago & Rock Island, 100⅛; Chicago & North Western, 82⅛; do Preferred, 82⅜; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 28½.

—The Cleveland and Pittsburg Road earned $12,500 more for the first two weeks in August than it did last year.

—The New York Tribune of Friday says: Governments opened firm and active on the investment bonds; 64s were specially active, and advanced. All the new bonds were in demand and were firmly held. Sixty-sevens are heavily oversold, and are in good borrowing demand. These bonds were depressed throughout the day by the offering of small amounts by the bears in hopes of bringing out some large blocks, but it did not have the desired result. The market has lost the excited temper of the past few days, and has a strong upward tendency, with heavy purchases being made both for foreign and domestic account. The German, bankers now buy the new bonds in preference to the 62s, and fully $15,000,000 have been taken within the past six weeks. The supply of bonds is not large on the street, and holders are confident of higher prices, and a sharp rise may be made at any moment should the efforts attempt to cover.

Gold, 144¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 114¾; 5-20's, 1862, 114½; 5-20's, 1864, 110; 5-20's, 1865, 112; 10-40's, 108⅞; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 108⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108¼; '68, 108⅜; June 7-30's, par less ⅛; July 7-30's, do ⅛; August 119; Sept., 119; Oct. 118½; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central, 103.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTEE,
SATURDAY, August 29, 1868.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

At no time perhaps in the history of the trade has the market for both Crude and Refined Petroleum been so panicky—excited and unsettled, as during the week which has just closed. The sales in the aggregate were large, but prices were very irregular, though from Monday until Saturday morning there has been a steady, decline; to-day, however, under the influence of an apprehended "corner," there was a firmer feeling, and Crude was held with considerably tenacity, and Refined, on spot, (in Philadelphia) advanced from one to one and a half cents. The receipts of crude during the week were 19,635 bbls against 21,419 bbls last week; receipts since January 1st 700,357 barrels. The exports of Refined this week were 18,725 bbls against 20,625 bbls last week: since January 1st 426,798 bbls against 415,918 bbls same time last year, showing an increase of 10,880 bbls, The sales of Crude for the week were 40,100 bbls; refined 51,000, making a total of 91,100 bbls, against 90,782 bbls last week. The market to-day was as follows:

CRUDE.

The market, as already intimated, was considerably firmer to-day, under the influence of an apprehended "corner," and spot oil, particularly, was held with more tenacity. The sales were: 1,000 bbls until September 15th, seller's option, at 117½c; 2,000 bbls until April 1st, 1869, seller's option, at 10c; 2,000 bbls for September, seller, at $4,50, on cars at Venango City; 1,000 do same delivery and option, at same price, and six car loads, to be delivered next week at 12c. We heard of offers to buy September and October at 12½c, which shows a slight advance, and the sales at Venango City show an advance of 15 cents per barrel, compared with yesterday.

REFINED.

The fact of August advancing from 30½ to 32c, in view of an expected "corner," created considerable excitement to-day, as well it might, and for a time, the "bears" looked decidedly blue. Late in the afternoon, however, reliable advices were received from Philadelphia to the effect that the market was considerable easier, and that the dreaded "corner" was not likely to amount to much, if anything, at all. If this should prove correct, the market will not open up as stiff on Monday as might naturally have been expected. The sales reported to-day were as follows: 1,000 bbls, spot, at 32c; 500 do at 31½c; 500 each September, October and November at 31c; 500 each same months at 31½c, and 500 each November and December at 31c.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 29, 1868.

The general markets have been rather dull during the past week, the operations in most of the leading articles having been almost entirely of a retail character, in consequence of the demand being restricted mainly to supplying the immediate wants of both dealers and consumers. The receipts of Grain are on the increase, particularly Wheat, and the same is true of produce, generally. Flour is in fair local demand, but there is little or no inquiry for shipment. Provisions, although devoid of excitement, are steady, with a good jobbing demand. Butter and Eggs are a shade higher, while Green Apples are dull and lower. Seeds are firmer, and in better demand.

BUTTER—Is firm and in steady demand, with regular sales of prime to choice at 35 to 37.

EGGS—The market is considerably firmer, under the influence of diminished receipts, and during the week, prices have advanced 3 to 4c; we now quote fresh packed at 18c.

CHEESE—Is reported quiet and unchanged; sales of Western Reserve and Hamburg at 14 to 15c; Factory at 16 to 17c; Goshen at 18 and Sweitzer at 20.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in good demand at $2,25, and but little offering. Timothy Seed is being sold at $3,25 to $3,50. Cloverseed is nominal at $7,50to $8.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

GRAIN—Wheat has advanced considerably in the west within the past few days, but, as yet, there has been no advance here, and as our mills are well supplied, it is not likely that there will be for some days to come; in the meantime, another decline is expected in the west. We continue to quote at $2,10 to $2,15 for prime to choice Red, and 5 cents higher for White. Corn is quiet and unchanged; sales of prime Yellow (Shelled) at $1,12. Oats in good supply and a little dull but unchanged; sales on track at 60 to 62c, and in store at 64 to 65c. Rye is in limited supply, and, in the absence of sales, may be quoted at $1,35 to $1,40. Barley is commencing to arrive, but, thus far, the receipts are light, and $1,75 to $1,80 seem to be regarded as the ruling quottaions.

POTATOES—Steady and the arrivals by rail continue light; we continue to quote at $3,50 to $4 per bbl, as to quality.

HAY—Continues firm, and with a light crop reported and limited arrivals, prices are well sustained, $25 to $32, from country wagons, as to quality. Baled may be quoted at $25 to $30.

LARD OIL—Unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady, with regular sales at 14 to 14¼c for Shoulders; 16½ to 16¾c for Ribbed, and 18¼ to 18¾c for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is still quoted at 19½c to 20c for prime kettle rendered. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

MILL FEED—The mill prices are unchanged, as follows: Screenings $1; Bran $1,10; Shipstuffs $1,30; and Middlings, $2,20.

FLOUR—The Flour market is quiet and unchanged; the demand is restricted mainly to supplying the immediate wants of the city trade, as most of the small towns in this section of country, heretofore depending on this market for supplies, are now able to buy nearer home. This being the case the demand for Flour is greatly reduced, and without wishing anybody ill-luck, we hope the day is not far distant when we will be able to chronicle a decline of $1 or $2 per bbl. The "Pearl" and "City Mills" continue to quote at $11,30 for White Wheat in barrels, and $11 in sacks; and Red Wheat at $10,80 in barrels, and $10,50 in sacks. Spring Wheat Flour, $10,50 to $10,75 for Old and $10 to $10,25 for New. Rye Flour $9,25 for Old.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 29.—Weather delightful for active trade, and some dealers are as busy as can be, although the demand is not rampant enough to suit the most sanguine. The market, however, is in a healthy state, and any cheap lots offering are readily bought. It is very apparent now that prices have found a level and there are fewer bargains of prints available. Nearly all the leading makes are being still sold in small quantities at 12½c, but no first-class prints can be obtained in quantity for less than 13½, which is the price of Spragues Pacific and C Lancaster and American have settled at 13. Heavy Brown Sheetings still remain a little depressed at 16a17. New York Mills and Manville 100. Bleached Muslins steady at 28; Wamsuta, 25; Tuscarora, 22; Lonsdale and Great Falls Q, 18; Bartlett, 16½; Hope, 16½; New Market, 16. Colored Cottons steady and firmer. Woolen goods of all kinds moderately active and bringing fair prices, fairer grades being most saleable and command better prices.

St. Louis Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, August 29.—Cattle receipts light and the demand limited; butchers sell at 3½a5c for gross.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

Diplomatic Small Clothes.

In the course of a few days we shall have the new Minister from the United States among us, and almost the first question he will find it necessary to decide relates to the clothes he intends to wear on State occasions. Fortunately it is a question that need not cause him any great embarrassment. The American Congress insisted some time ago that citizens of the United States should be allowed to go anywhere they pleased in any sort of raiment, and the right is freely accorded. The ex-Minister to this country was more than once given to understand that Her Majesty would be happy to see him in such attire as he thought proper to assume, but Mr. Adams did not deem it respectful to the English Monarch to walk into her presence in a garb which rendered him conspicuous, while the representatives of other Powers were not too proud to dress themselves in conformity with the usages of the Court. It thus happened that Mr. Adams was never seen at Royal receptions toward the end of his term, but a notice regularly appeared setting forth that the United States Minister was kept away "by unavoidable circumstances." This caused no diplomatic misunderstanding, for it was generally understood that the question at issue was nothing more serious than the cut of a worthy gentman's coat and breeches.

We all respected the motive which led Mr. Adams to absent himself from State ceremonies; as in everything else, his course was dictated by the highest sense of courtesy towards others. But Senator Johnson will be placed in such different circumstances that he need not recognize the fact of any difficulty having been experienced at the Legation. He finds a regulation of Congress already in force, and he has known no other. He has therefore only to present himself before her Majesty in ordinary evening dress and not a word will be said to him on the subject. Diplomatists of older standing might perhaps feel that Congress had interfered in what was essentially a private matter, and had even caused them to suffer some loss of dignity. Almost any sensible man who was ordered by a body of legislators to wear at Court a particular dress and no other, and singled out a dress which infringed a general custom of the country in which he was placed, would feel that he was being subjected to petty vexations and restrictions. But Mr. Reverdy Johnson need not feel that the dictation of Congress has thus followed him into his very dressing room. We trust, therefore, that he will present himself at Court, and continue to do so, even though Congress should some day prescribe as a uniform the dress of the big Indian, beautifully posed to represent Liberty, which ornaments the top of the Capitol at Washington.

Mock Gems.

Art is made to rival nature in many ways, and in no instance more remarkably than in the imitation of all kinds of gems. This form of industry is now practiced in almost every country of Europe, but probably to a greater extent in Paris than anywhere else. Great is the demand for false diamonds alone, and correspondingly great is the supply. We have spoken before in these columns of the successful imitation of these—the most admired of all jewels—to such a degree that the manufactured articles shines with a brilliancy as if it had been struck off from the rock of Golconda. These imitations were the subject of a recent article in a London journal. There are many processes; but all result in the production of what is called crystal water, which, hardened and cut, is a perfect counterfeit. Worn it may be by a young lady at her first ball, and dazzling all eyes by its scintillations, it is not known to them to be a composition of white sand treated with hydrochloric acid, calcined potash, borax and arsenic. Add to the paste, which is the basis of this, a little oxide of cobalt, and we have the fac-similes of a great grandmother's prized collection of sapphires. Or mix with the colorless material, a little antimony and purple of Cassius, and there is a topaz before us. Would we obtain the emerald, the bride of the diamonds, as it has been called in the language of the East, we have but to add in their stead some oxide of copper.

Of artificial pearls there are several varieties. The Japanese make theirs of rice paste, which is better known as Japanese cement, and is harder than marble. The Romen pearls are made chiefly of fish scales heated with the finest spirits of wine, and the manufacture must be carried on in highly heated rooms, but they are as light as wax and cannot possibly deceive. The Turkey rose pears do not deserve the name. They are in fact made of roses. The leaves are heaped in a mortar having a very highly polished inner surface and pounded into a soft mass; this is dried in the sun, but not rapidly, for rose-water of the very finest perfume is sprinkled over the pink paste now and then; the damping and urying are repeated, and the pearls so called are moulded in a form, polished, steeped in oil of roses and polished again, so that they are lustrous and sweet scented. Some are tinted blue, others are odorous of storax and musk, a few, and they the most difficult to perfect, are black.

THE railroad track layer now in use in California is said to operate successfully, and places the iron rails in position at the rate of one mile per day, though some of the work has been done at the rate of two miles in twelve hours. The machine is a car sixty feet long and ten feet wide. It has a small engine on board for handling the ties and rails. The ties are carried on a common freight car behind, and conveyed by an endless chain over the top of the machine laid down in their places on the track, and when enough are laid, a rail is put down on each side in a proper position and spiked down. The track-layer then advances and keeps on its work until the load of ties and rails is exhausted, when other car loads are brought. The machine is driven ahead by a locomotive, and is stated the work is done so rapidly that six men are required to wait on it, but it is asserted that they do more work than twice as many could do by the old system, and that the work is done quite as well. The chief contractor on the Vallejo and Sacramento railroad, where the machine is in use, gives it as his opinion that when the machine is improved by making a few changes in the method of handling rails and ties, it will be able to put down five or six miles per day.

THE population of the Austrian Empire, according to a statistical work recently published, is divided into the following nationalities: 8,782,000 Germans, 6,521,400 Czechs, Moravians and Sclaves; 2,380,000 Poles, 2,985,000 Russians, 1,203,000 Russians, 1,203,000 Slovenians, 1,400,800 Magyars, 2,916,000 Croatians or Servians, 2,884,000 Roumanians, 1,121,000 Jews, 589,100 Italians, 152,860 Zingari 52,800 Bulgarians, Armenians and Greeks. The same work states that the annual products of agriculture are as follows: 508,000,000 of bushels of grain, 203,000,000 of buhels of potatoes, 2,000,000 of tons of beet-rot, and 240,000,000 of gallons of wine.

A LARGE number of ladies from the best classes of Berlin have formed a secret society for the purpose of checking the growing evil of prostitution. These philanthropic ladies pursue the following plan: They walk about the city at certain hours of the day and accost such prostitutes as they may meet on the street. They ascertain if they have any parents, ask them to abandon their life of shame, and, if they consent, take them to an asylum where they spend a day, and are sent on the following day to some of the wealthy families in the country, who have engaged to keep one or two of the unfortunate girls as long as they behave well. If the girls refuse, the ladies write to their parents or other relatives, and promise to pay the traveling expenses if they will consent to take their fallen daughter back. All the members of this order wear on their breast a small black cross. They have an office where two ladies answer all letters that are received. Other members of the society call daily at the female employment bureaus, and they immediately provide something to do for girls who are unable to obtain situations. The success of the society surpasses all expectations. It numbers now upwards of two hundred members, and the infamous procuresses of the capital are seriously alarmed at the extraordinary energy with which the good work is carried on.

THE art of glass-making was introduced into modern Europe by the Venetians. Besides discovering the art of rendering glass colorless by means of manganese, the Venetians also enjoyed the monopoly of mirrors, the silvering of which was a secret long kept from other countries. These mirrors, however, have now lost their reputation, as foreign competitors produce larger plates. Glass beads are still made in considerable quantities for exportation. Venetian enamels have always been famous, and among the peculiar productions of Venice may be reckoned the beautiful composition called aventurine, the secret of which is said to be in the possession of a single manufacturer. The great glass works are at Murano, one of the islands of the Lagoon. The number of persons employed in glass-making at Murano and Venice is 5,000, of whom one-third are men, and two-thirds women and children. The annual cost of the substances employed in the manufacture is estimated at about 7,000,000f. In the East there is a constant demand for beads and other articles known as "conterie." There are six glass works in Turin, three in Genoa, five in Milan, thirteen in Florence, eleven in Naples, and twenty in Venice. These fifty-eight works produce articles of the annual value of 10,276,725f.

COUNTRY NEWSPAPERS.—Four or five years ago, Mr. Kellogg, of Chicago, commenced to print the inside of country newspapers in that city. The plan seemed to take, and he now prints one hundred and three, located in all the States of the Northwest. So that Democratic papers, Republican papers, and all sorts of papers, go to their readers with the same matter on two of their pages. Of course they are necessarily all of a size, and the matter they contain of a neutral character.

TO DETECT the presence of wool in silks, it is only necessary to boil a few pieces of the fabric in a concentrated solution of potash, and dilute it with water. On adding a few drops of a solution of nitro-prussiate of soda, a fine violet color is produced, if wool be present, owing to the formation by the first process of sulphide of potassium, the sulphur of which must be derived from the wool, as none is present in silk.

THE APPETITE FOR

Tobacco Destroyed!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.

One box of ORTON'S PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be, IF IT FAILS IN ANY CASE THE MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED. It is almost impossible to break off from the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted; with the help of the preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that ORTON'S PREPARATION completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and thus allaying the unnatural cravings of tobacco.

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.
W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.
E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.
BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.
J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,
Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.
Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be adipted to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to supply my invention to stores, dwellings, facteries, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

The Directors of the Marine Oil Company have declared a dividend (No. 17) of five per cent. on the capital stock, which is payable on and after the 1st September, at the office, No. 12 Fourth street.

Collided,—Friday evening two buggies collided on Pennsylvania avenue, resulting in the breaking of a wheel of one vehicle and the damaging of the other to a considerable extent. None of the occupants were injured.

Personal.—Geo. W. Pittock, Esq., of the news depot of B. Patterson, New Castle, Pa., is now in the city on a brief business visit. His many friends will be glad to learn that he is in excellent health, and has been quite prosperous in his new field of labor.

Correction.—In our police report of Saturday we reported Hugh Mallison, W. Richardson and "Duch" McKenna as arrested on oath of Annie Ashley on a charge of surety. We are reliably informed that neither of the above were near the residence of Mrs. Ashley at the time the stones were thrown.

Felonious Assault.—Alderman Butler on Saturday committed James Bolton to the county jail on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, preferred against him by William Baker. Baker alleges that the defendant attacked him in Washington county with a razor and attempted to kill him. Bolton was committed to await the arrival of an officer from Washington county.

Reckless Driving.—A little boy was run over on Friday evening by a horse and buggy which was being driven at a furious rate down Fifth street. The vehicle contained a young gentleman and lady, who must have been possessed of very little sense to engage in such a dangerous practice. A policeman stopped the buggy after the accident and conveyed the drivers, animal and vehicle to the Mayor's office.

Alleged Larceny and Adultery.—Dr. Louis Kells was brought before Alderman McMasters on Saturday, charged with larceny and adultery. The deponent alleges that the defendant carried off a toble valued at twelve dollars and fifty cents, and that he also on the 15th day of August committed the crime of adultery. The accused after a hearing was committed in default of $1,000 bail on each charge for a further hearing on Monday, September 1, at 2 P. M.

Cross Suits.—James Nolan and Patrick Delaney each made information against James Clinton before Mayor Blackmore for assault and battery. The prosecutors allege that Clinton came into a saloon kept by them near the Minersville car station, and after some wordy altercation pitched into and abused them. Clinton was arrested and held to bail for Court. In return he made information against his prosecutors for selling liquor without license. They were also held for trial.

Consolidation.—At a public meeting of citizens of Allegheny, held on Saturday evening last, His Honor Mayor Drum presiding, Messrs. Alfred Slack, John A. Myler and H. English were appointed a Committee and invested with authority to wait, on behalf of the citizens of Allegheny, upon the candidates nominated for members of the Legislature and receive their pledge to vote against any measure offered to consolidate the city of Allegheny with that of Pittsburgh. The result will be duly announced.

Mass Meeting in Millvale Borough.

On Friday evening last the Republicans of Millvale borough held a large and enthusiastic meeting in the public school house. Edward Coates, Esq., presided, with Messrs. John Briner, Josiah Riley, Hugh Woods as Vice Presidents, and Mr. Samuel F. Kettler Secretary. Able and eloquent addresses were made by Senators Errett and Graham, and Miles Humphrey, Esq., candidate for Assembly. There will be another meeting held next Friday evening to organize a Grant Club. From the enthusiasm manifested at this meeting Millvale can be expected to do her full share of work at the approaching elections.

Shoe Store Robbed.

Some time during Friday night or early Saturday morning, the shoe store of Mrs John Campbell, on Smithfield street, near Third, was burglariously entered and a small quantity of the goods therein taken off. The accused gained admittance to the establishment by removing the bricks under the window in the rear wall, a hole large enough to admit the body of a boy being made. The depredators endeavored to open the safe but found it impregnable, and so were compelled to content themselves with taking several pairs of shoes, which was all they could secure for their trouble. No clue to the perpetrators has been obtained.

Westminster College.

As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, proposes to increase its usefulness by enlarging its English course. This is a step in the right direction. It is important that in our colleges, as well as in our common schools and academies, a more exact attention should be given to English scholarship. Important beyond controversy as are the higher branches, they are not so important as the lower. It is of advantage to a man's reputation and usefulness to have a firm, rather than a lofty footing. High position acquired by a long course of study sometimes makes the individual's deficiency in the commonest branches the more painfully conspicuous. We trust the thoroughness of Westminster College will be equalled by that of all our institutions of learning.

Grand Mass Meeting in the Third Ward, Allegheny—Loyalty in Council—Speeches of Messrs. Mueller, Miller, Slagle and Graham—Tremendous Gathering.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the patriotic Republican citizens of the Third ward, Allegheny, turned out en masse on Saturday evening in front of Col. Gerst's hotel, on East Lane, to give expression to their sentiments on the great issues now before the country. The gathering, in point of number and enthusiasm, was one of the largest which it has been our pleasure to attend since the opening of the campaign. The Germania Brass Band was present, and did much towards enlivening the occasion by their excellent soul-stirring music.

The meeting came to order at half-past seven o'clock with the following list of officers:

President—James McBriar.

Secretaries—Henry Bork, A. J. Penticost, and reporters of the Republican press.

Mr. McBriar, on taking the Chair, returned his thanks to the audience for the compliment, and introduced H. P. Mueller, Esq. Mr. Mueller spoke altogether in German, which prevented us from getting a synopsis of his remarks. From the enthusiasm with which they were received, and the frequent applause by which he was interrupted, however, we judged it to be one of the gentlemen's happiest efforts.

At the conclusion of his remarks, the band played an enlivening air, after which Jacob H. Miller, Esq., took the stand and made an interesting and forcible address. Mr. Miller commenced by saying that he was glad to see so many of his friends and acquaintances of Allegheny gathered in council on such an occasion and at such a time. He had thought as he looked aronnd on the vast assemblage, if there had ever been a similar gathering under such circumstances in the world, and as he referred to the history of the past he was compelled to say that only in America had its counterpart ever been seen.

The people of this country are, as they should be, practically the government and as they assemble in council together to consider and decide who shall execute their wishes in the future, they well know and feel that the grave responsibility of their country's weal or woe rests upon their actions. The gentleman then reviewed the past history of the Republican party, and asked the question of those who had sustained the noble Lincoln if they had anything to be ashamed of. The record of this party is one of which any party might be proud. To the country they have given a glorious peace and an unbounded prosperity. Taking hold of the government when it was tottering to its fall, they have elevated it to a position which it has never before occupied and to-day is an honored, influential and powerful nation Republicans can rejoice and exult in the success which has attended the work of their hands.

Some persons have asked, will General Gaant be elected? Who would not vote for Grant? Where is the man who, in the light of the last four years, with a country just emerged from the throes of a foul rebellion, and enjoying peace and unparalled prosperity, would be so craven, so ungrateful as to cast his vote against him by whom all these results were obtained. People of a grateful republic do as their honor and better feelings demand, outside of party prejudice. The man who preserved to them their liberties and existence, will be placed in their Chief Magistrate's chair, by a majority which will completely overwhelm all partizanship, and be a standing rebuke to the enemies of Republican governments, their Republics are ungrateful. The next subject which claimed the speaker's attention was the principles and object of the Democratic party! Their principles as enunciated by the New York Convent on contemplate the restoration of all that has been lost by rebels in their vile attempts to subvert the best government in existence. Already in all parts of the South rebels and traitors are beginning to look at and advocate the election of Seymour and Blair as a means of restoring them to power. But if the loyal men of the country are true to their own interest, if they but labor as becomes men upon whom depends the existence of their nationality, if they but stand by the Republican party and its principles, these nefarious designs will all be frustrated, the power of the Government to conquor and keep down rebellion be exemplified, and peace, prosperity and happiness reign throughout the land. The gentleman then rapidly examined the bond and negro suffrage questions, making several telling hits, and closing amid great applause, with a glowing exhortation to all present to enter into the contest with a spirit and determination to win victory in November.

Meeting in Lawrence County.—Quite a large delegation, accompanied by a band and glee club, left New Castle on Saturday afternoon, to participate in a grand Republican demonstration at Moravia. Dr. Wallace, of New Castle, and others delivered addresses, and the meeting was one of the largest ever held in Lawrence county. The district is being canvassed strongly by the Republicans, and a large majority will undoubtedly be the result.

After some more excellent music, Major J. F. Slagle took the stand and made a brief and pertinent address. He said the two great parties in the Union were marshaling their forces for a conflict, such as is witnessed in no other country—the peaceful conflict of the ballot. This is the reason of all the commotion and excitement which is exhibited all over our land to-day. It behooves all thinking, reflecting citizens then to know the purposes of each party, to form an opinion before giving his suffrage to either. The real question which is dividing the country to-day is one which has divided it since the foundation of the government. It is one regarding the freedom of its citizens and all their rights and privileges as free men; but the question is asked, are we not free? We boast of our freedom in the old Keystone State. And we boast justly too—we are free in Pennsylvania, and are protected in our rights, but we are fighting for a broader freedom. We are fighting for the privilege of going into any State of our Union and without fear or favor uttering the same sentiments which to-night we can utter in our own free gallant home, and until we can do this in Georgia and Alabama and all the States South and North until we are allowed and can exercise this great privilege of free speech—the greatest belonging to freemen—our boasted freedom is a sham. The gentleman then reviewed the history of the nation from the time Charles Sumner, in our legislative hall, was stricken down by the bludgeon of a Southern fire-eater for expressing his sentiments, showing the bondage in which we were then held and which continued until the breaking out of the war. From this and similar causes the organization of the Republican party became a necessity for the preservation of our liberties. The promulgation of the principles of universal freedom of speech throughout the land eventually brought on the conflict from which we have just emerged. All through that stormy time this principle and idea was firmly and tenaciously adhered to by the Republican party, and when the clouds of war rolled away victory perched upon their banner, and free speech was guaranteed to all throughout the length and breadth of the land. And this is the real issue which divides our country to-day; it is not bonds, it is not taxes, it is not any of these specious questions by which the Democratic party seek to blind the eyes of the people. It is a question whether we are to enjoy the freedom of which we boast. Let us then, with this issue clearly before us, go forward earnestly in the work and see that our principles conquer. We have fought for them, nobly and valiantly in the field. Let us fight as nobly and vailantly at the ballot-box, and when the third day of next November is over and victory remains with us, a shout of joyous triumph from millions of freemen will proclaim to the world that this land is indeed the land of the FREE, who have secured their freedom forever.

After Mr. Slagle's speech, the band discoursed several patriotic airs, and Hon. Jas. L. Graham was introduced, who entertained the audience for nearly an hour, in a speech remarkable for logical power and eloquence. He said they met to-day on the eve of one of the most important elections which had ever taken place in the country. It was customary to say this in all contests of the kind, but every thinking man must admit when he examined the circumstances of the hour that upon the decision given by the people in this election depended, in a great measure, the future destinies of our government. It is the duty of our man, as a lover of his country, to lay aside all party prejudice and all party traditions, and to look squarely at the question and conscientiously and honestly ask himself what is my duty to myself, to my country, to humanity, and then having once decided, regardless of partizanship, go forward in the every discharge of that duty without fear or favor. Examining then the question in this light, there appears to be two leading or central ideas or principles, which present themselves for consideration. The exponents of one of these ideas are the nominees of the Republican party, and the exponents of the other are the nominees of the Democratic party. The Republican idea is that the union of the States under the Constitution forms the government, and that any departure or withdrawal from this government is a crime punishable with the severe penalties recorded to traitors and rebels. The Democratic idea is that the Union depends on the consent of each individual State, and as long as this consent is accorded the compact remains unbroken, but when a State wishes to withdraw, it can do so and the government can't prevent it. There is really the underlying cause of the present contest. It was this difference of opinion which brought on the war, and it is this which will have to be settled finally, as we are now about to settle it forever, by the ballot. These side issues of bonds, greenbacks and taxes and the wail about the down-trodden Southerner and representation all are not the real questions, but are only thrown as decoys from the main question. The same principles which we fought for during the war are on trial to-day, and they either perish or are triumphant with the success of one or the other of the parties asking for the suffrage of the people to-day. The gentleman developed this line of argument at considerable length, and in an able manner, which seemed to carry conviction with it. He next took up the two candidates Grant and Seymour. Grant he characterized as a man born in humble circumstances, educated at the Government expense, a modest, quiet, unassuming man, of few words but mighty, noble deeds, one who when all others had failed led our armies of gallant soldiers to glorious victory. This is the man whom the Republican party have chosen as their standard bearer and for whom they ask the votes of the people. On the other hand, we have Seymour, the cunning, crafty, calculating politician, a man skilled in all the political chicanery of the New York school of politics, a man who when General Grant was marching under the summer sun at the head of our armies was cajoling and caressing in New York a mob of red-handed, orphan asylum burners, and murderers and calling them his friends. He afterwards snee ingly asks where are our victories? Where are the successes promised us, and where were they? He was unaware that at that time our noble boys in blue, under the leadership of Grant, had taken the rebel stronghold of Vicksburg, and the rebel Gen. Pemberton had delivered up his sword with thirty-four thousand prisoners of war; that the gallant General Meade was driving the rebel hordes from the soil of Pennsylvania, and from all along our borders the shouts of victory from our victorious legions made the welkin ring. (Cheers.) Mr. Wallace, the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, says that Seymour is a statesman and that Grant is not. What does Frank Blair think on this point? He thinks, according to his published letters, that Gen. Grant has not only intellect enough to fill the position of President, but that if elected he will, by the power and force of that intellect, make himself dictator, and therefore it is dangerous to elect him.

But conceding that Gen. Grant has never mixed in the political whirlpool, that he is but a civilian, a man of the people, unaccustomed to public life, is not the education of the last eight years sufficient? His experience in that Union has made him so acquainted with the wants of his countrymen, and so educated him that if elected he will develop that kind of statesmanship which the people so much desire in their servants, and which will lead us from the commotion of civil strife into a condition of peace and abundant prosperity. Hardly more than a year ago this was the language and sentiment expressed by the Democratic party. But now a change has come over the spirit of their dreams Now the man whom they delighted to honor has become the butt of all their rage and sarcasm. But their efforts are in vain. The record of Gen. Grant is written in imperishable characters in his country's history, and no blot or stain has ever defaced it

The question then to be decided by you my fellow citizens is: Shall you give your vote to the man who has always endeavored to embarrass our government, or shall it be given to the man in whom you can confide, who is a man from your own midst, a man who has proved himself by deeds more than words to be a true patriot, and a firm and unaltered friend of humanity and human liberties. Throw away then all your party prejudices and let the third day of November tell to the world that Americans know how to reward their benefactors. The speaker next took up the bond question, during which he gave a graphic picture of the condition of the country at the time of the war, showing that the Treasury was bankrupt, and that by the efforts of a Republican administration it had raised from that condition to one of soundness and financial strength. He also gave a practical illustration of the method proposed to be adopted by the Democrats of paying the national debt in greenbacks, which he characterized as a system of wrong and national dishonesty. A nation, as well as an individual, if she wished to preserve her national existence, must be honest. Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people, is as true now as when it was first thundered into the ears of the ancient people.

The Democrats are very much afraid that the negro would become their equal. This talk of negro equality is all a sham, and is used to divert attention from the main question. The law gurantees only to the negro the same right that it would give to its lowest or its highest citizen. It don't compel a man to invite a negro to his table, or to associate with him in his daily intercourse if he prefers not to, and can it be that the Democrats are afraid that this negro will surpass them in intellect, and so must be kept down. Can it be that the poor down trodden African rising from under the blightening influence of oppression and slavery, possessed of no advantages of social intercourse or education, disregarded, degraded, can it be that he shall surpass his oppressors in the race of life? If he can do this, if he can rise above his degrading surroundings, if by the power of his own inherent mental strength he can mount the hill-tops of progress, and pass me in the race of life, I will say to him as he rises higher and higher in the scale of humanity, God speed you, and if rising higher and higher and ever growing nobler and nobler, reaches the topmost summit of earthly, hopes and aspirations, he will sing to him as he passes through the clouds towards the goal, as we sometimes sing—

"If you get there before I do,
Lookout for me, I'm coming too."

(Loud and prolonged cheers.)

The gentleman continued at some length to argue the justice and equity of the reconstruction policy of Congress as laid down in the 14th article of amendment to the Constitution, which was frequently interrupted with applause, and which we regret space will not allow us to report further.

In closing, he said the present was simply a contest between loyalty and disloyalty. Shall the liberties, and all that is noble and true in our Government, be sacrificed before the grass has withered over the graves of those who had laid down their lives to preserve it for us? I think not—it cannot be. There is a spirit of loyalty and national love in the hearts of the American people which will not permit them to do this. They are awake to the issue of the hour, no demagogues, no political tricksters, can blind their eyes to the great interest which is at stake, and while rebels exult in the prospect of a speedy realization of all their wishes, while their sympathizers are laboring actively in their behalf, the great heart of loyalty is beating true to the Union, the fires of patriotism are still burning on the altar, and when the third day of next November rolls round, from the village and hamlet, from the crowded city, and from all parts of the broad Republic there will gather a mighty host who, with one grand manifestation of their power, will sweep away every vestige of treason, and with songs and glad acclaim render their highest reward to him who hath saved them, the unconquerable soldier, the profound statesman, the incorruptible patriot, Ulysses S. Grant. [Loud and prolonged cheering.

After the applause which followed Mr. Graham's speech had subsided, the chairman announced another gathering in the Allegheny Diamond on Monday evening and proposed three cheers for Grant and Colfax, which were given with a will and the meeting then adjourned.

Republican Rally in Birmingham.

The Republicans of the borough of Birmingham turned out in large numbers on Saturday evening, it having been announced that Col. C. S. Poorman, of Ohio, would deliver an address on the issues involved in the present political campaign. A band had been employed and excellent music was discoursed from the stand, in the Market square, opposite Shaeffer's hotel. By half past seven o'clock, a very large crowd had assembled and the appearance of the speaker of the evening was anxiously awaited. John Able Jones was present with his glee club and the audience was favored with several campaign songs, rendered in most excellent style.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. D. C. Ripley, who announced the following officers: President—M. B. Hartzell; Vice Presidents—John Redman, George Duncan, John Phillips, James Mc Donald, Chas. Evans; Secretaries—David A. Jones, Martin Schaeffer.

Col. Poorman having been introduced, made one of the most telling speeches of the campaign. The audience listened most attentively, preserved the best of order, and at the close evinced their appreciation of what had been said in most heartily applause. The Colonel reviewed the reconstruction policy of Congress, the bond question, and the position of the Democratic party in a most able manner. A considerable portion of his remarks were addressed to the workingmen, and he demonstrated very clearly that the interests of the laboring class had been best subserved by the Republican party.

Gen. Negley, candidate for Congress, followed in a brief but eloquent address, excusing himself from talking longer, owing to the lateness of the hour. His remarks were well received.

Major E. A. Montooth was called for and responded briefly, confining himself mainly to the "record" of the Presidential candidates. He closed amid cries of "go on," "go on."

Prof. Jones favored the audience with another song, and after music by the band the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

The meeting was decidedly one of the best held in the borough thus far in the campaign, and from the manifestations it was plainly to be seen that the Republicans of Birmingham are united and wide awake, and will give a good account of themselves in October and November.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of the Sixteenth ward (Bloomfield) was held on Saturday evening. During the afternoon previous to the meeting a large and substantial pole had been erected, and at the appointed hour for the gathering a costly and beautiful flag, the gift of A. B. Boal, Esq., was flung to the breeze.

At eight o'clock the meeting came to order with the following list of officers:

President—A. B. Boal.

Secretaries—Reporters of the press.

After a few introductory remarks, the Chairman introduced Thos. Howard, Esq., who addressed the assemblage on the questions of the hour.

Mr. Howard was followed by John S. Lambie, Esq., in a brief speech, and after listening to a patriotic ballad, sung in excellent style, the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

Mass Meeting in Wilkins Township.

A very enthusiastic and largely attended mass meeting of Republicans was held on Saturday night at the Public School House, Wilkinsburg. The organization was effected by electing James Kelly, Esq., President and Messrs. John Black and William Anderson, Secretaries. Able and argumentative speeches were made by Col. Russell Errett and R. J. Powers, Esq., to which the audience listened with marked attention and gave frequent evidence of warm and enthusiastic approval. At the close of the meeting a Grant Club was organized with the following officers: President, Dr. John Sample; Vice Presidents, James Kelly, James McKelvy, Duncan Hamilton, Wm. A. Shaw, Col. Samuel Elder, Robert Milligan, Alex. Gorman; Secretaries, William Anderson and John McFarland; Treasurer, I. G. McFarland. The meeting adjourned with three times three cheers for Grant, Colfax and the Union. An open air meeting will be held on next Saturday night in the borough when a brass band will be in attendance and able speakers will be present.

A Strange Story.

Shortly after eleven o'clock on Friday evening a man approached officers Wilson and Johnson, at the Union Depot, and stated that he had been made the victim of a confidence game under the following circumstances: He said he belonged to Illinois and was waiting to make connection with the Western train, having just arrived from the East. While he was waiting in the depot a well dressed, gentlemanly looking individual came in and entered into conversation with him. After conversing a short time, his new friend invited him to take a drink, and they left the depot for that purpose. As they were about entering the hotel stranger No. 2 steps up and told stranger No. 1 "that he had shipped that freight, and must have fifty dollars to pay the charges." No. 1 had nothing but a five hundred dollar bill, and asked greeney to lend him fifty dollars till he got change, which was done, and the last seen of the strange gentlemen they were hastening down Canal street toward Penn. The Illinoisman returned to the depot, and about half an hour after the occurrence related the above story to the officers. He said he thought they would come back and return him the money, which was the reason why he delayed informing the officers. He staid at the depot until the next morning, when he endeavored to get a pass over the Fort Wayne road by relating his story. He was afterwards seen talking to a man who soon after came to the office and corroborated his story. The pass, however, was not forthcoming, and the tale is so fishy that a suspicion exists that it is a put up affair throughout. How any man could be gulled in the manner stated, is altogether beyond comprehension. If it be true the individual is a little greener than we had supposed a mortal could be and live. However, truth is stranger than fiction, which is an argument in its favor.

Another Outrage—A Young Girl the Victim.

On Saturday evening a young and respectable German girl who resides in the Fifth ward was the victim of a brutal outrage of a party of fiends in human form, for whom no punishment is too severe. It seems that the young lady in company with a male friend was quietly walking along Penn street, about nine o'clock in the evening. Turning from Penn they passed toward the river, down Canal stroet. As they were walking along Canal street they were accosted by three men, who entered into conversation with them. As the parties seemed respectable and quiet, nothing was thought of the occurrence until they arrived at the bank of the river, where the men knocked the young man down with a handy billy, rendering him senseless, and seized hold of the girl. She endeavored to create an a arm, when one of the men placing his hand over her mouth grasped her in his arm and carried her under the railroad bridge where the three villains succeeded in their design. In the meantime the young man recovernig procured an officer and went back to the bridge where they discovered the unfortunate girl. She was taken home and search was made for her assailants. A man who was noticed hurrying from the bridge was arrested and taken to the lock-up, where he refused to give his name, He is supposed to be one of the guilty parties. The police are endeavoring to ferret the villians out, but so far have not succeeded.

Railroad Accident—Man Killed.

On Saturday evening, shortly before dark, John Flinn, an employe of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company, was run over by a train on the road and instantly killed. It seems he was walking along the track near the outer depot, in the Second ward, when stepping off on a track to get out of the way of an approaching train, he was struck by a train coming in the opposite direction with the result as stated. The deceased was about forty-five years of age, and resided at Wood's Run, whither he was going at the time of his death. Coroner Clawson has been notified, and will hold an inquest this morning.

Wm. Semple, 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny, hereby returns his thanks to the firemen and Chief Engineer, His Honor Mayor Drum and police, and citizens generally, for aid so kindly and efficiently rendered at the fire at his store on Friday morning.

He also inform his friends and customers that the store will be opened to-day as usual, having enough of Dry Goods on hand to supply their wants, besides a very heavy stock on the way.

Goods damaged by water being not yet appraised, cannot say what will be done with them.

Alleged Robbery.

Edward J. Ford made information before Alderman M'Masters on Saturday against James Battle and William White for assault and battery and robbery. Ford alleges that while he was in attendance at the Fenian picnic on Friday the accused entered into conversation with him, and after a short time they enticed him away from the company to a retired spot, where they knocked him down and robbed him of seven dollars. A warrant was issued for their arrest.

A Philanthropic Act.

On Friday afternoon about three o'clock three small boys were playing with a skiff moored at the Allegheny wharf, near the Hand street bridge, when the boat broke from its fastenings and floated away from the shore. In the fright occasioned by the occurrence one of the boys, named McMahon, fell into the water and narrowly escaped a watery grave. He had gone down the third time, when a young man named Hutchison plunged into the river and with considerable difficulty brought him to the shore. He was insensible but revived soon after. This is said to be the third time Mr. Hutchinson has acted in a similar manner, and he certainly deserves the highest praise for his philanthropic spirit.
